PLAN DRIVE ON LIQUOR ACT

MILL RATE FOR 1926 WONT BE MORE THAN 44

Taxes of Small Business Man to Be Materially Reduced

BUSINESS TAX OFF-SET BY LICENSE FEE

Supplementary Revenue Intended to Relieve Property Owners

As predicted by Commissioner David Mitchell at the meeting of the city council on Thursday night, Edmonton's mill rate for 1926 will show a substantial reduction over that of last year, which with the set-off of the business tax promised some two weeks ago, will materially reduce the taxes of small business men in the city.

But no actual figures are available at present which shows that the mill rate of 1926 will not be more than 44.4 mills, according to statements made by Commissioner Mitchell, who said he intended to make still further reductions next year.

Property Owner. "Our whole object in asking for an off-set by a license fee on the mill rate and relieve the burden on the property owner by reducing the amount of the taxation at the present time," said Mr. Mitchell.

Another resolution passed by the business tax workers on Friday was to propose to the government that if a storekeeper has been paying a $25 license fee and a $1 lighting tax, he will be allowed to apply the $1 lighting tax to his business tax, so that he will pay off only $100, helping him to save $10 on the business tax, or $10 on the $25, or in other words his business tax is reduced by $10.

ROOMING HOUSE MAN. GUILTY OF STEALING. Wong, a young guilty of theft was found guilty of theft on Friday by Justice Tweedie. Wong is accused of having taken $100 from the charge and the charge was laid by Albert Cohn who makes his living by cashing in checks that have been cashed at the hotel. He has been indicted for receiving the $100.

BROKEN COLLAR BONE JUST PART OF DAY'S SPORT

Prince of Wales Won't Give Up Hard and Fast Riding

Special Bulletin Cable.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The Prince of Wales, whose collarbone was broken in a fall from his horse, treats his injury lightly and says as part of the day's sport. He declares he has not given up riding hard and fast riding.

The Daily Express of the prince, who always safeguards his powers, physically as well as mentally, before starting his hunting career, said he could not be told for from the government on the eve of the prince's departure for Canada whether his collarbone had been put back together.

The opposite attitude is taken by the graphic. This publication hopes the prince will perhaps not give up riding hard and fast, restricting his hunting. Falls occurring in the hunt and what passes unnoticed in others cause a loss if it happens to the prince.

Education Urged. Another resolution passed by the Canadian branch of the British Association at its annual meeting held in First Baptist church on Friday was to urge the government to the drastic changes affecting the manufacture and export of Canadian timber. The resolution, which the convention will be asked to endorse, requested that the present lumber quota be increased, and that they be put on the premises of all other business houses in the province, and that the quota on stores under the six o'clock closing act.

The resolution, which the convention will be asked to endorse, requested that the present lumber quota be increased, and that they be put on the premises of all other business houses in the province, and that the quota on stores under the six o'clock closing act.

Rev. Principal H. M. Miller. The Rev. Principal H. M. Miller, president of the Salvation Army, who reported to the meeting the result of the recent investigation of the death of his son, Captain H. G. Miller, a member of the Salvation Army, responded to the toast of the ladies proposed by Mrs. C. G. Mathews, while Miss Thomas, Tall, proposed Miss Miller.

Montreal Syndicate Said to Have Taken Over Oil Properties.

Another eastern financial syndicate is to take a hand in the development of oil fields in the field, according to stories circulating in the city.

With All McBrown to charge of operations in the field a Montreal oil company, the Canadian Oil Co., the oil lands held by E. T. Bishop, T. S. MacLean and other local men, are to be consolidated and developed on a royal basis. The company will be believed to be the ones covered by the deal, which will be sealed in the spring.

Considerable discussion ensued here on the resolution which proposed for a further consideration of the bill on the liquor question. This was voted down.

Election of officers for the year resulted as follows: President, E. E. Marshall; vice-president, J. E. Scott; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Marlene.

BODY OF CARDINAL BORN TO ITS GRAVE.

Special Bulletin Cable.

MALINES, Jan. 28.—Cardinal Mercier, Belgium's heroic churchman, died yesterday at Malines.

Twelve seminarians bore the coffin, which was very high mass of regalia was said.

The body will be secretly lowered into the crypt of the cathedral before the amensments are sent down to the legislature.

There was a service before the council board on a previous occasion, but the cardinal did not vote at that time.

His Worship was out of the council chamber when the amensments were read through in council, and the matter slipped through because the qualifications were fully aware of what clause the charter amendment contained.

Although the property qualifications of the voters who hold positions eligible for nominations for civic positions were eliminated by the late Mr. James East when the amendments to the charter were introduced, they were ratified through council, thus preventing the removal of a party qualification.

The matter was reopened and it is the intention of the council to have the amensments before the amensments are sent down to the legislature.

Exclusive to Bulletin
WINNIPEG, Jan. 28.—The life-time savings of Alex Rose, formerly of Brandon, Man., amounted to $42,841, were bandied over at Heart's Mass Company in pay-day money and a store of stock, according to a story told yesterday before Magistrate H. L. Leger in police court, when Joe Heart's is being held a preliminary hearing on charges of theft.

He got for his money so far is $34,411 in dividends. At the close of his examination, the witness had nothing to do with Heart and apparently has no hard feelings for that man who, the crowd agrees, got the most of the big money.

Exclusive to Bulletin
OTTAWA, Jan. 29.—The vote on the Mighen amendment to the address will likely take place in the House on Monday. This was the view of Mr. J. A. Robb, attorney general, yesterday evening by J. A. Robb, attorney general, who was leading the government at the time of adjournment.

The announcement made by Mr. Robb was not given by Mr. H. S. Mighen (Conservative, Vancouver Centre). Mr. Stevens agreed to give the speech, but it was intended to carry on the present debate and not to adjourn.

Whips Confer

Mr. Robb replied that the last discussion on the bill had only finished his remarks about five o'clock. He understood, however, that the speech had been given between the whips for taking the division.

A new Conservative strategy was discussed.

It was intimated that a result of the morning's caucus the Conservatives would have no more speakers after Hon. Dr. Dryden had spoken.

Dr. Dryden spoke for half an hour.

Plan Obvious

This was the view of the purpose of taking advantage of the fact that the one Conservative in the House and that there would be one less to speak against the Whips' motion seeking election in Prince Albert.

The Liberals and the Progressives, however, kept the talk going, so there could be no snap division.

BANKS OF ATHABASCA NEAR SMITH TO BE WASHED FOR GOLD

Hydraulic gold mining machinery is being shipped to Edmonton from Stawash Creek, in the Okanagan territory of B.C., and will be used to wash the sand near the town of Smith in the spring. With this machinery the banks of the river will be washed down to the bedrock.

The Noble Creek Prospecting and Developing company will do the work under the supervision of John Reid, mining engineer of North Battleford, and will spend approximately $100,000 on actual development work next open season.

John Reid, an experienced prospector, and his son, John, are the partners taking. A. R. McLean is treasurer and manager, and are taking Peter F. McLean, J. O. Williams, J. B. Gillies and Harold T. Curran.

FIRE INSURANCE LOSSES MORE THAN PREMIUMS PAID IN

Canada's fire losses in 1925 amounted to approximately $225,000,000, this being exclusive of the amount paid out by the insurance companies in claims for damage to property in the United States. The amount collected, making no allowance for the cost of doing business or for expenses, was $200,000,000. The difference is that of farm property which is not insured. The federal department of insurance in the four years, 1921-24, the fire losses amounted to $225,000,000, while the losses paid amounted to $190,278,074.

DESKS CLEARED FOR OPENING OF LEGISLATURE

Departments Busy Prepar- ing Estimates, Little Law Making Expected

All government departments at the parliament buildings are busy getting ready for the opening of the legislature which will open on February 11, and the various departments are busily engaged in their preparations to giving full time to the work of the legislature.

Little new legislation is being brought down according to reports, but the budget of the Municipal and a redistribution act are looking for passage. A bill to increase the tax on beer and a redistribution act are looking for passage.

A new Conservative strategy was discussed.

It was intimated that a result of the morning's caucus the Conservatives would have no more speakers after Hon. Dr. Dryden had spoken.

NEED SCIENCE AS FARM ADD

Wheat Pool and Rural Cre- dit Systems Result of Research

That a knowledge of the science of economics is inevitable as well as a knowledge of agriculture was shown by W. M. Pruden in an address before the Royal Society of Canada near Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Pruden, a member of the Royal Society of Canada, said that some extent every farmer must be a student of economics in order to insure a profit control the market, and that the correct method for the farmer to adopt in obtaining this knowledge is to attend the first year courses and secondly the history of the science, especially the study of may branches of agriculture, and the study of a branch of his own which appeals to his taste.

Mr. Pruden also said that the wheat pool and rural credit systems such as the wheat pool and the rural credit system as results of economic research are of great value.

The Noble Creek Prospecting and Developing company will do the work under the supervision of John Reid, mining engineer of North Battleford, and will spend approximately $100,000 on actual development work next open season.

HONOR BURNS AT RED DEER

St. Andrew's Society Pays Tribute to Great Scot- tish Bard

RED DEER—The St. Andrew's Society celebrated its annual Burns Night yesterday with a splendid program and an interesting address by Dr. J. M. Macphail, president of the Red Deer Calvary. Dr. Macphail paid tribute to the poet's genius and to his influence on the world, and urged people to do the same honor to him. Hon. Dr. H. G. Ross, president of the St. Andrew's Club, Dr. H. E. Bubya was elected honorary president of the new club.

Walter B. Herbert was chosen by the members to be the chairman of the committee for the annual Burns supper.

Dr. Macphail, in his address, gave a brief history of the poet's life and death, and the subject of prohibition, dealing with the scientific rather than the political aspect of the question.

Miss Weeks, piano soloist, and Mr. Hobson, violin soloist, and a band of young musicians, all of whom are members of the faculty and their friends, entertained.

Will Seek More Satisfactory Settlement, Report
From Regina

REGINA, Jan. 29—Following the lead of the Canadian Wheat Board, Saskatchewan intend to press for the return of their natural resources. According to reports from Regina, they are to the effect that though Minister of Agriculture, Mr. M. L. Scott, has recommended a more rapid return of the resources a more satisfactory arrangement will be sought than that given Alberta.

Legislature Decides It

To meet the situation, a resolution moved by Dr. J. T. M. Anderson, member of the Saskatchewan legislature, to the effect that the government should again seek the return of the natural resources, was passed by the legislature yesterday.

It was thought that with Premier King's recent report to the legislature, and with 15 members from the Saskatchewan party in the house, the time was ripe for re-opening the question.

Sask. Failed to Act

Separation of the territories between Alberta and the Dominion government Premier Duncanson stated that the Saskatchewan government has resources back on the same terms as Alberta.

It was thought that with Premier King's recent report to the legislature, and with 15 members from the Saskatchewan party in the house, the time was ripe for re-opening the question.

SOUNDS POSSIBLE AT THAT

Democratic Congressmen say that Mr. Hoover has been inflating his rubber speeches with hot air about the shortage of supply, in order to draw attention away from the piratical tactics of U. S. rubber manufacturers.

THE CASE AT VANCOUVER

A British Columbia newspaper report that a combine existed in the fruit trade between Canada and the action has been started in the court at Vancouver against the Nash-Simington interests. The proceedings will be watched by people in Alberta with interest not less than that of the people of British Columbia. The latter are interested as fruit producers; the former as fruit consumers.

As the firm in question is alleged to have defrauded producers and consumers alike, the public in either province is in the position of a vitally concerned party. The fruit growers of British Columbia have been getting their deserts the Duncan report was a mistake; the present proceedings are based on a misapprehension, the grower has got as much of what the consumer paid him as he should have got, and the latter need not look for cheap fruit. Otherwise, justice will fall unless, as a result, the grower gets more and the consumer pays less.

The fruit growing industry is one of the most important sources of income of the people of British Columbia. The fruit bill is one of the largest items in the annual expense account of the British Columbia legislature. The importance of fruit in the fruit trade being kept free of any sort of manipulation is not small, but large. On the one hand the prosperity of the British Columbia fruit grower, and to a considerable degree the prosperity of that province, is involved. On the other hand, the rights, the scale of living, even the health, of the Alberta family is involved.

TORONTO BUYS $18 COAL—WHY?

Alberta coal miners, coal miners, and all others who are interested, financially or sentimentally, in the expansion of the coal producing business in this province may ponder with profit the following clipping from an editorial in the Toronto Star:

MAYER Foster, Controller MacGregor and Controller Harker have voted to spend the taxpayer money on 2,000 tons of Welsh semi-anthracite coal for resale to the citizens. It is bought "right unseemly" with the result it is not fit for use in the home fires of the coal cars. Total cost $17.50 per ton. By the time the coal is unloaded, broken, screened, bagged and delivered, and an allowance made for wastage and carriage expenses, the cost will be $18.00 per ton or more of 2,000 pounds.

It is evident that the only answer to the coal problem is that the city invests in it, and if residents will not buy it in competition with Peacocke at $12.50 to $13.00 per ton, or Welsh anthracite briquettes at $14.00 per ton, in Toronto or anywhere else, in quantities large enough to be worth both buying and selling, it is doubtful if Alberta coal can sell at a profit again. Welsh anthracite can sell at a profit again. Welsh anthracite can sell at a profit again.

These figures, taken together with a recent dispatch which said that a carload of Alberta coal had been sold at Eglington—a suburb of Toronto—at $15 per ton on board the car, may help to explain why orders from that fuelless province are not pouring through the mails to the coal offices in Alberta. Alberta coal is still at $15 per ton against Peacocke coal at $12.50 to $13 per ton and Welsh anthracite briquettes at $14 per ton, in Toronto or anywhere else, in quantities large enough to be worth both buying and selling.

The spring rush to Yukon gold fields has commenced. Rushy猛探者, prospectors have already started from Tacoma, Washington, on the steamer Tepka.

OUR DAILY POEM

By EDGAR A. GUEST

MEAT LOAF
I do not mind an iron stir,
I mind the taste of meat dinner.
Most any food I'm glad to chew.
To no set menu card I'd pin her.
I take her make-shift meals with glee
For I'm an eater strong and able,
But I rebel whenever I see
Meat loaf upon our dinner table.

MEAT LOAF
Meat loaf has many friends, I know.
It has a very ancient history.
Our great grandmother's long ago
Taught me how to make meat loaf.
With tender hands she shaped my meat.
Bricks without straw there's nothing to it.
Old ladies teach the trick to brides.
Meat loaf is proof that they can do it.

This robust nature most severe.
Which resembles as I try to eat it.
For me holds little mirth or cheer.
It may be very tasty, but it
Wore out its welcome years ago.
Too regularly have I faced it.
Nor size of sorrow should I show.
It never again on earth I taste it.

But still with scruples that and that.
Next week and then the next shall make it.
With gentle hands the form shall pat
Then to a solid oblong back it.
And short I have to ninety-three.
Lame my mother she'll repeat it.
I do not like meat loaf, but she
Insists I'll have to learn to eat it.

Do You Remember?

FORTY YEARS AGO

From the Edmonton Bulletin, Saturday, Jan. 23rd, 1886.

M. Inglis of Ft. Saskatchewan returned from a trip to the United States on Friday. He left Edmonton in September in company with Chas Lemaine. Lemaine remained at Dunvegan, being employed by the H.B.C. Co. Mr. Inglis will return to the Peace River by the H.B.C. Marine packet.

S. Cunningham, M.N.W.C. for St. Albert, says that he applied for a leave of absence session of the school of funds for public service in each district of the territories amounted to $400 clear of the expenses of the Ottawa delegation, which were expected to reach about $1,000. He secured from the Lieutenant Governor a promise of $400 toward the construction of a bridge across the North Saskatchewan River at a place, and a sufficient appropriation for presents, pairs on the St. Albert bridge out of the funds placed by the federal government at his disposal.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the Edmonton Bulletin, Monday, Jan. 27th, 1896.

The hockey match between the Police, of Ft. Saskatchewan and the Thistles of Edmonton last Saturday afternoon was the most exciting ever seen in the city. It pitted the best players of the two clubs. Total attendance $17.50 per person. By the time the coal is unloaded, broken, screened, bagged and delivered, and an allowance made for wastage and carriage expenses, the cost will be $18.00 per ton or more of 2,000 pounds.

It is evident that the only answer to the coal problem is that the city invests in it, and if residents will not buy it in competition with Peacocke at $12.50 to $13.00 per ton, or Welsh anthracite briquettes at $14 per ton, in Toronto or anywhere else, in quantities large enough to be worth both buying and selling.

Whether this is a solution of the coal problem is not clear, but it is a fact that the price of coal in the market is not high enough to cover the cost of carting it from the cars to the bins of the buyers. That would make the price in the bin, $12 per ton, lower than the price of any other coal offering at the present time to the people of Alberta.

Coal producer Mayer Foster, of Eglington, $15 per ton, should cover the cost of carting it from the cars to the bins of the buyers. That would make the price in the bin, $12 per ton, lower than the price of any other coal offering at the present time to the people of Alberta.

A Western Fit

Mr. Forke, helping him into it: "Glad you are taking it, sir. It's a genuine Prince Albert class to it."

DR. FRANK CRANE'S EDITORIAL

WHY NOT?

RED GRANGE, the young gentleman who excelled in school football, has retired from the amateur class and become a professional.

He is to get something like $30,000 a day, and signed a contract with a moving picture concern for something like $400,000.

Red Grange is capitalizing his publicity and his talents and making more of them.

For this reason he is condemned by a great many people who affect to look down upon money making.

But just why a man who can run faster than anyone else across a field and buck any kind of a football line, and whom the public is willing to pay money to see, should not reap the financial rewards of this ability just as much as the manipulator of the stock market should become rich because of his peculiar ability, it is hard to see.

After all, Red Grange is but doing what we all do, making money out of his peculiar talent.

A man is not paid in money for the value of his services, but for the value of the time he spends on those services.

Thousands of people would pay one cent to hear Socrates talk or to buy a book containing the reflections of Plato.

This is not saying that Socrates and Plato are not doing more for the world than a football player, but it is stating the peculiar law of remuneration that holds everywhere.

People pay money for what they want, not for what is good for them.

Many Pickford gets a million dollars or so a year, not because she deserves it so much, perhaps, as because people are willing to pay money to see her.

A good deal of the objection to Red Grange's money making comes from people who are in the money-making business themselves, but are not satisfied with their gains.

If this boy can make a young fortune in a few years because of his endowments, we ought to wish him well instead of being envious of him. A few years ago, at the time when he was at school, he was not a particularly good student, but he has since made up for his lack of ability to make money should not be envious of him but should be proud of him among their number.

UNCOMMON SENSE

—By JOHN BLAKE—

ELEVATORS CAME LAST
The time is now when various great cities are astonished at elevators.

Take as a matter of course the rapid journey from the street level to the top floor of the mountain climber.

Today the pioneers are in the air, and dirigibles are made, tolling to make transportation still easier and more comfortable.

But the elevator, no fanciful rail, has climbed up to establish these new heights.

Today the elevators of the tallest buildings in the world are working at dizzy heights and often at the risk of life.

These are the men who find distant lands on which the food supply of a whole world could depend.

Wherever you are from a train station, a bus terminal, a park or a theatre you see the signs of the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

Today the elevators of the tallest buildings in the world are working at dizzy heights and often at the risk of life.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

And it is a question whether we are not better off for the work they do.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

These are the men who risk their lives to work for the future.

DIVORCE CASE TRIED UNDER AMENDED ACT

Woman Plaintiff Suing on Equality With Man, Gets Decree

One of the first divorce hearings before the new law came here in which a woman plaintiff sued upon an equality with a man (page 1) since the amendment passed in the last parliament, was recently granted. Ellen Elizabeth Broadley, now Mrs. Ness, daughter of Harry Broadley, of Grande Prairie dictated.

Other Charges Fall. The plaintiff also charged her ex-husband with having lied to the court, ruled that he had lied. Her claim for all damages was dismissed. The court held that under the English law $175 a week after expenses for two years. The Justice intimated that the husband did not have the power to change the law with regard to its effect upon alimony rights.

Set in Hospital. The plaintiff also charged her ex-husband with having been in a private hospital in Vancouver, where she was told he had been given "gold cards," said on Jan. 12. She asked her to his house, he refused to let her in. She left and two days later she accepted. She grew cold after a few moments and went home. In letter sent to him in England he said that he had been ill and had a cut and a sore again with her.

REFORMS IN GREECE TOUCH THE CHURCH

Monastic Orders Likely to Be Abolished — New Code Forecast

Special Bulletin Cable. ATHENS, Jan. 25.—Bentonic reforms are being made by General Dionisis, who has been appointed Minister of Education. He will be by proximate representation to the Orthodox Church. Ministers are forbidden to participate in politics, and the Orthodox Church is to be removed from the government's budget.

A new council is being created to prepare all laws and a new civil code.

Reforms are anticipated in the church. In the last monasteries under forty years of age were returned to the church. Monasteries over forty years of age, the monastic properties will be returned to the state.

SOLDIER SETTLERS NOT UNANIMOUS ON RE-EVALUATION PLAN

WINNIPEG, Jan. 25.—There is no longer a uniform evaluation for all soldier settlers themselves for a general revaluation of lands last night by Major John Barnett, chairman of the soldier's settlement.

A questionnaire sent last year to all soldier settlers in the prairies, Atlanta showed, said Major Barnett, that the average value per acre was 25 cents against any radical change in the original valuation. In the stricken area of Goose Lake, Alta., and Major Barnett was in favor of this, and also that ex-soldiers settled there should have their farms revalued.

"I thought you said he had his hands full," said the captain. "I ought to remember that much."

"What time was it?"

"About eight or eight-thirty, near 9 o'clock," Captain.

"Never mind the captain. That afternoon he came to see me. What did he say? H. A. Jones look like?"

"I don't remember much about him. Let me see, he was tall,

"Was he a big man or a little man?"

"He was a pretty big man. He had his overcoat buttoned up around his neck, and his coat was open, and his hands were down. Seems like he did not know what he was doing."

"Thought you said he had his hands full?"

"He did. But I could see the pain on his temples. It was cut close, but not as deep as any radic-

"I mean the original valuation. I strucken area of Goose Lake, Alta., and Major Barnett was in favor of this, and also that ex-soldiers settled there should have their farms revalued.

"Under the head are doing well on the whole, and unfortunate which the soldiers settled there should be tributed to the head." Such men should have their farms revalued, even if they had not bought them, he said.

PRINCE CAROL TO RETURN; SORRY HE RENOUNCED RIGHTS

Special Bulletin Cable.

EDMONTON, Jan. 25.—Prince Carol of Roumania has practically decided to renounce his royal rights in view of advice received here. The prince is reported to have expressed regret at having to give up his right to the throne.

The prince has been seen by the King to effect a reconciliation, it was stated.

autopsy to see what caused his death.

A strange young fellow entered the room. Evidently a reporter, for he sat down, looking out the window, the police sergeant paying now and then to jot down a word or two. He was holding a bundle of sheets of rough paper. He stopped over.

"Sorry, Mr. Rand, but will you supply me with your father's age and name?" he asked. "I think I've got most of the details from the police."

"I'm fifty-five," answered Jimmy. "He had a wife and two children, my sister and myself."

"Thanks, Mr. Rand. Sorry to trouble you. He turned to his companion, "What is he, Coroner, sir?"

"It's murder," interrupted Jimmy grimly. "The police sergeant is here. You'll write noting about suicide until you learn the coroner's verdict."

"Oh! You seem pretty sure. Well, I'll let him know. What's your idea of what took place?"

"My idea," replied Jimmy, "is that either, Mum, anybody here knows this man."

"He's my father, Coroner."

"Did your father carry this lump at the back of his neck?" Here, feel

Jimmy ran his hand carefully over the spot indicated. He felt what appeared to be a broad, well-defined swelling just below the center of the centre. It was firm, but slightly tender.

"I'm sure," answered Jimmy. "I think he would have been killed by a blow to the head with a hard weapon."

"I think he would have noticed it years ago," said Mum, "but he didn't notice it."

"Did he, Schwartz?"

"I guess so," said Schwartz.

"He didn't tell me if he had been sick in bed, though."

"He was drinking, don't you know?" growled the sergeant.

"I think he did. I take a drink once in a while."

"Did he sleep in his bed?"

"I don't know," said Mum. "I think he slept here, probably would know if he had."

Auto Breaks Baby's Sleep

IT WAS a rather rude awakening for George M. Peck Jr., aged 3, of San Diego, when his father's automobile plunged into the Peck home. The boy's mother awoke as she and her husband lay in bed, and found the child a hill nearby. The machine, after tearing out a corner block of the house, stopped astride of the baby's bed. But George Jr. was unharmed.

WEEKEND, SO I'M THINKING ABOUT WHAT I'M GOING TO WEAR AT MY WEDDING.

OUR WEDDING
HONEY! I'VE GOT A BRIGHT
IDEA. I MUST FIND SQUINT.

COME,
SKEEZIX,
WE'LL GO
LOOK HIM UP.

I FIND A NUT.
